

Why is it everytime that something good comes along, let alone pay for, come under attack. Please leave XM programming alone.